Housing Ombudsman workshop: Spotlight on repairs

Wednesday 23 October 2019 | London

Living in a home in a poor state of repair can have a significant impact on residents. It can cause stress and frustration and damage the ongoing relationship with the landlord.

Delivering a good repairs service is a high priority for landlords and many handle complaints very well – but there is room for improvement.

HQN is once again delighted to be partnering with the Housing Ombudsman Service on this new series of practical and interactive workshops.
