

HQN Accredited: Gas

HQN Accredited: Gas is the UK's first and only accreditation scheme specifically designed to assess gas safety and commissioning arrangements. It is a visible sign that your service meets or exceeds regulatory requirements, whilst ensuring that your team gets the recognition it deserves.

HQN Accredited: Gas holders can demonstrate that they provide a comprehensive gas management service – placing customer safety at the heart of their approach.

HQN Accredit: Gas

Accreditation provides:

- Assurance for your board/councillors, stakeholders and partners that your approach reflects best practice
- Recognition that your service operates efficiently, effectively, economically and delivers excellent service to residents
- An enhanced professional reputation for the organisation, managers and staff
- An independent validation of your achievements
- Technical guidance and support from HQN's specialist consultants, helping to ensure that you are well prepared for current and future challenges
- National promotion of your success.
